Overview:The white wine (Malvazija, was considered very good and of the reds the Dignac Palvac Mali was considered the best as well as the best buy. That may reflect the fact that the latter is closer in character, structure and taste to the western wines that the Group is more used to. The Saoeravi scores were the most disperse and there was good discussion about the features of this wine. Some comments were: earthy flavors, minerality, perfumed, lots of red fruit, acidic, improved with the food, bubbly , metallic taste, strong. Overall the participants the presentation as very educative and informative about the wines and the history behind them.
